Areas of Practice

- Healthcare Professionals Advocacy
- Administrative & Regulatory Law
- Insurance Litigation
- Appellate Litigation

Courtney Christopher is a partner at Hutchison & Steffen, PLLC, where she focuses her practice on the defense of healthcare professionals and entities in medical malpractice, professional negligence, and healthcare-related litigation. With over fourteen years of experience, Courtney has devoted her legal career to representing healthcare providers in complex litigation, developing effective defense strategies tailored to the unique circumstances of each case. Her extensive experience encompasses all phases of litigation, from initial investigation and discovery through dispositive motions, settlement negotiations, and trial.

Courtney represents a broad range of healthcare professionals and organizations, including physicians, physician assistants, nurses, professional corporations, medical practice groups, outpatient clinics, hospitals, long-term care facilities, and skilled nursing facilities. She understands the complex medical, legal, and regulatory issues facing healthcare providers and is committed to protecting her clients' professional reputations and interests while achieving favorable outcomes.

In addition to her litigation practice, Courtney regularly represents healthcare professionals in administrative investigations and disciplinary proceedings before Nevada's professional licensing boards. She has successfully defended providers in matters involving the Nevada State Board of Medical Examiners and other healthcare regulatory agencies, guiding clients through the investigative and disciplinary process.

Courtney also advises healthcare professionals and entities on credentialing, privileging, and related regulatory matters. Her experience includes representing practitioners in credentialing disputes and serving as a neutral Hearing Officer in healthcare credentialing matters and fair hearing proceedings.

Courtney earned her undergraduate degree from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, and her Juris Doctor, cum laude, from Thomas Jefferson School of Law in 2011. Originally from a small town in Missouri, she has called Las Vegas home since 2004.

Courtney has been recognized on multiple occasions as a Super Lawyers Rising Star for her work in medical malpractice defense. She is admitted to practice before the state and federal courts in Nevada and the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.
